In giving character to a city or town, next to its churches and schools come its stores. Boasting of the former, Indiana is proud also of the latter.

The happiness and comfort of life depend largely on the little things, the fit of a glove or a slipper, the buttons of a shoe, the shade of a tie or the rounding of a collar. These all give pain or pleasure as the conditions are. Formerly only in the large cities could a lady, or a gentleman either for that matter, find a supply of the new and beautiful in things small or great, but now with the marvelous facilities for rapid transportation and frequent intercourse between distant places, country towns are merely suburbs of great cities, and the extreme demands of our newest culture and taste may be met and supplied at home as well.

Few cities anywhere can boast of a nicer store than Wilson & Son's Indiana Three-Story Block, well lighted and roomy, various departments. Besides staples it excels in newness and extent in all that makes a first-class Dry Goods, Nation, Clothing, Carpet and Shoe Store.

Their large trade enables them to receive goods daily, and both to buy and sell at the lowest possible prices.

None but experienced and accommodating clerks employed.

Franklin Sansom,

INDIANA, PA.
21 Years Ago

WHEN Indiana was a very small town, when West Indiana borough was a part of White township, when there was but one little frame school-house, with one teacher for a few months even to educate the youth, with no paved interior, no stone crossings, no paved streets, no public lights, no water-works, no Normal School, and but few of the beautiful avenues then that are now filled with handsome residences, we began business in a little room, 20 x 20 feet, on the then new corner of Philadelphia and Second streets, West Indiana borough. In the fall of 1881 we purchased the Rokenhoffer property, 637, 639, and 641 Philadelphia street, and in April of 1882, after retiring room 641, we opened what has since been known as THE ONE-PRICE STORE.

We have just completed the putting in of a large plate-glass front and a large addition to the rear, the building covering over 2,700 square feet of ground. It is open for public inspection, to judge whether it is not the best lighted and most conveniently arranged room in the county, or outside of the large cities. During 1882 we put in four stations of the Lippitt Cash Carriers, which are connected with our elevated office, and make our system of doing business the most complete in the county.

We feel proud of the progress of our town and appreciate the advantages of our Schools, and will, as we believe is the duty of every citizen, with our best efforts do what we can to make our town a pleasant place for all who may come to stay or pass in a visit.

Our aim has always been to give the best values and to be up with the demands of the trade. We mark all our goods with plain figures, ONE PRICE TO ALL, thereby assuring the stranger the same advantages of the old citizen.

FOR GENTLEMEN, WE CARRY A LARGE STOCK OF Clothing, Hats, Shirts, Collars, Cuffs, Ties,
Fine Shoes, Slippers, &c.

FOR LADIES,

Buying as we do, in large quantities, from first marks as possible, we can assure our patrons the LOWEST PRICES THE MARKET AFFORDS. With competent gentlemen and ladies for clerks, we assure you polite attention when you visit
